Financing or Leasing—Which is Right for You?

Depending on the unique characteristics of your business, there are many benefits to financing or leasing your vehicle. To help you determine which option is best for you, consider the following:

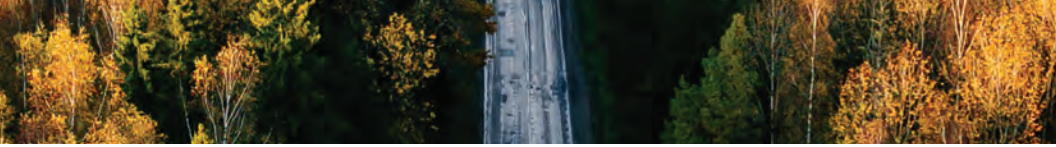

Financing Benefits

- Ownership: When you purchase a truck using a conditional sales contract, each payment you make on the vehicle gets you one step closer to owning your vehicle outright.
- Flexible Payment Options: We offer a variety of flexible payment options to meet your financing needs (see page 5 for more details).[1]
- Depreciation Benefits: You may be eligible to take the depreciation on the truck and take a deduction for the interest paid.[2]

Leasing Benefits

- Lower Down Payment/Monthly Payment: A lease typically requires less initial cash outlay and has lower monthly payments, allowing you to have flexibility with your cash.[1]
- Newer Equipment: Don't get stuck with obsolete equipment. Leasing allows for a shorter trade cycle, which gives you access to the latest in new truck technology.

Complete Line of Loan and Lease Products

Once you have determined whether a loan or lease is the ideal option for you, our experts will help put together your customized finance package. Here is an overview of our complete line of finance products:

Conditional Sale Contracts

This program is offered to eligible individuals, small businesses and fleets and is a good option if your goal is to own the vehicle. This is a simple-interest, fixedpayment contract that locks in an interest rate, and is fully amortized with or without an agreed upon balloon payment as the final payment. The loan terms and payment structure can be customized based on what works best for you and your organization.[1]

Open End Lease

An Open End Lease is the most commonly used instrument for commercial vehicle leases. They offer lower monthly payments than conditional sale structures, and at lease-end, you may have the opportunity to acquire the vehicle or refinance the balance owing,[3] or receive the excess proceeds upon Daimler Truck Financial Services' sale of the vehicle.

Options Lease

Like other leases, an Options Lease typically requires a lower initial cash outlay and lower monthly payments in comparison to a conditional sale contract. This lease product is specifically designed for our eligible fleet customers, and is an Open End Lease where the amount owing by the lessee towards the residual value of the vehicle is capped at the difference between the residual value and the guaranteed residual value stated in the lease, subject to certain vehicle conditions and other requirements.[5]

See our Finance and Lease Products brochure to review the details of each finance product.[2]

Payment Options to Meet Your Needs

When you finance your vehicle(s) with us, you can look forward to a number of payment options to best suit the needs of your business.[1] (Note that all of the following options must be set up prior to contracting.)

Balloon Payments
Pay a lump sum at the end of your contract. As a result, smaller payments are made throughout the term of the loan. Customers can choose to pay the balloon payment in cash or refinance the balance.

Skip/Seasonal/Token Payments
Personalize your payment schedule to help reduce expenses in a given month or slow season to better manage cash flow.

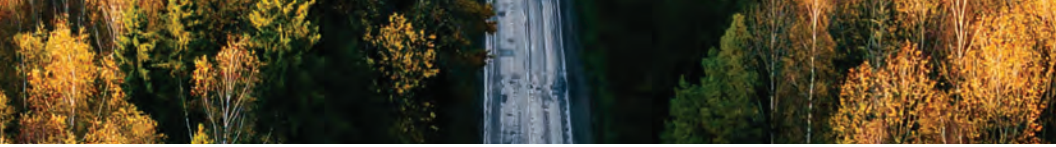

Delayed First Payment
Get up to 60 days from the contract execution to first payment to help with cash flow at the beginning of the contract.

Step Payments
Ease into full payment amounts with predetermined initial, graduated and full monthly payment amounts. This option enables you to purchase a vehicle and start earning money while building up to full payments.

Extended Terms
To help our customers acquire the vehicles they need with a payment they can afford, we offer extended terms of up to 84 months for medium duty and select vocational applications.

Special Finance Programs

From time to time, we offer special finance programs in conjunction with programs sponsored by Daimler Trucks North America. Be sure to ask what programs may be available at the time of financing your vehicle(s).
